

Weekend week full of great races at the Autodromo Internacional do Algarve The Autódromo Internacional do Algarve (AIA) receives between 4 and 6 September for the second consecutive year, Blancpain GT Series.

This protagonist championship big races, will not be the one to delight motorsport lovers to complete the weekend joins the FIA Formula 3 European Championship and the National Speed Championship (Racing Weekend).

During the first end-of-week of September, the best GTs nowadays brands like Audi, McLaren, Mercedes, BMW, Aston Martin, Lamborghini, Ferrari, Porsche and Nissan go on the track to compete in two types of series: Sprint and GT. Being its second season, the Blancpain GT Series account this year with seven rounds, returning to the track Portimão, one of the most demanding on the fifth lap. European Formula 3 prefers the AIA Last year the FIA Formula 3 European Championship, regarded as the 'stepping stone' to Formula 1, held in Moscow, which was scheduled another visit this year. Due to the huge logistical effort and expense, the teams requested before the race promoter who was reconsidered changing this round, thus resulting in the Portimão circuit.

This will be the first event in the Algarve track, which opened in 2008, the championship which has trained the likes of Lewis Hamilton and Ayrton Senna.

Between 1 and 2 September, will be held a collective test for the teams and drivers can adapt to the track. This race will be an addition to the evidence already announced, Blancpain Series and Sprint Racing Weekend, with the national speed championship.

Party for family

This year the Algarve Autodrome promotes an event for everyone. In addition to young people up to 16 years do not pay, they are accompanied by an adult with a valid ticket, were also created packs for family, which includes accommodation and exclusive access with lunch at the circuit during the end-of-week.

Tickets and packs, with values ranging from € 5, are on sale on the AIA website: www.autodromodoalgarve.com, in store and through tickets@autodromodoalgarve.com email.

{fshare} {plusone}